

UNIADRION SUMMER SCHOOL
SECOND EDITION

Migration and mobility in the Balkans

9 - 13 September 2019

Faculty of Economics “Giorgio Fuà”, Room T31

Lectures Program

Monday 9 September

10.00 - 13.00 Arjan Gjonça (London School of Economics): Migration and Population Change - Definition, measurements, data sources and its effect on population growth and size

14.00 - 16.30 Valeria Marengoni (UNHCR): An overview of international refugee protection: challenges along the Balkan route and upon arrival in Italy

Tuesday 10 September

14.30 - 17.30 Nermin Oruc (Centre for Development Evaluation and Social Science Research, Sarajevo): Remittances and Development: The nexus and the evidence

Wednesday 11 September

9.30 - 12.30 Russell King (University of Sussex): New trends in potential migration from Albania

Friday 13 September

10.30 - 13.30 Marco Zoppi and Stefano Bianchini (University of Bologna): Migration flows in the Adriatic-Ionian region: multidirectionality and the territorial question

Scientific Committee

Giulia Bettin, Eralba Cela, Arjan Gjonça, Russell King